Prepare To Launch Campaign For United Service Organization

At a meeting yesterday at The Castle, New Castle's top manpower was mobilized in support of Lawrence county's first patriotic effort of the present emergency, the campaign of the United Service Organization, under the chairmanship of P. J. Flaherty of the Johnson Bronze company.

The United Service Organization is a nationwide effort to raise $10-765,000 to meet the needs of our soldiers, sailors in camp and defense workers throughout the nation. Summoned by the defense chiefs of America one thousand community leaders from all parts of the country met in Washington on Thursday, April 17, to confer on the vital question of defense morale. The conference was called, with the approval of the president, by the federal security administrator, the secretary of war and the secretary of the navy.

Impregnable Morale
The delegates were told that our foremost defense problem is the building of an impregnable morale. The plans of the United Service (Continued On Page Eight)

Three Hundred Lions Gather

Hear Governor Courtney At District Meeting Here Last Night

HONORS ACCORDED THREE LOCAL LIONS

District Governor James O. Courtney, of Somerset, Pa., last night at the Cathedral called upon 300 banqueting Lions of Region No. 2 of District 14-B, largest in Lionism, to zealously "protect and guard America's freedom and traditions."

"In what other nation," he asked, "could we gather like this tonight with this freedom that we enjoy? Men of Lionism, let's protect and guard these things which are really ours!"

Lions Ready To Help
The district governor, leader of 84 Lions' clubs scattered over almost 18,000 square miles of Western Pennsylvania, told the crowd that 150,000 Lions that now form International constitute a great helping hand for America in times like these.

Courtney's message, the last of the evening, finished off more than an hour and a half of speaking. (Continued On Page Two)

Berlin Claims Fate Of Crete Is Already Sealed

Belief Spreads Attack Is Dress Rehearsal For Plan To Invade England

NAZI REPORTS SAY LANDINGS MADE

Part Of British Fleet Is Damage By Air Attack Is Another Claim

By PIERRE J. HUSS
International News Service Staff Correspondent

BERLIN, May 22.—The fate of Crete is "already sealed," unofficial German sources declared today as belief spread in Berlin that the Nazi offensive actually is a full dress rehearsal for invasion of England.

Military spokesmen said that "other things will have to be taken care of" before the Nazi legions are sent across the English Channel. But the general impression in Berlin was that Crete would serve as an example of what England faces.

Successful German landings have been made at three separate points on the island, according to Berlin information.

Admit Heavy Fighting
Wilhelmstrasse spokesmen admitted that heavy fighting has been under way for three days in Crete. But they insisted that German parachute and airplane troops, reinforced by naval units and backed by an incessant "blitz" by the Luftwaffe, had gained a foothold the very first day of hostilities "and have never relinquished an inch."

Officially, the German high command remained silent. The German public has not yet been told even that Crete was attacked. A "surprise announcement"—meaning of course another Nazi victory—was discussed in competent quarters.

According to information made available to correspondents, the attacking German forces have obtained suitable air field space, access to the sea and advantageous "attack" positions against the British and Greeks in Crete.

Cite Attack On Naval Unit
Military men cited the terrific German air attack on a British naval unit off Crete yesterday as proof of Britain's inability to land suitable reinforcements. Bomb hits on eight British warships were claimed.

Steel Leaders Hear Confident Report On U. S. Ability To Make War Materials

(International News Service)
NEW YORK, May 22.—Steel leaders today heard Irving S. Olds, chairman of the board of directors of United States Steel Corporation, express supreme confidence in America's ability to outmatch Germany in the production of war materials.

Addressing the annual meeting of the American Iron and Steel Institute, Olds said: "To my mind it is unbelievable that the United States, given a well-timed and proper support of our people, cannot outdo anything of which Germany is capable in the way of production of the essential instruments of modern warfare."

Olds declared that to accomplish such a task, "we have most of the required natural resources; we possess adequate plants and facilities; either now in existence or capable of being revamped and enlarged within a reasonably short space of time; and we have within our population a vast army of skilled workers, trained in mass production methods and prepared to operate those facilities."

Nazi Aerial Invasion Attempt In Crete Previews War Of Future

GENERAL FREYBURG

A preview of war of the future and a possible rehearsal of an attempt to invade the British Isles have been given by the German forces who have landed by parachute, glider and troop-carrying plane on the Greek island of Crete, a short distance south of the Greek mainland in the Mediterranean. The probable method used by the German parachute troops, shown jumping from transport planes, upper left, in starting their assaults upon landing is pictured, lower right. They are reported to have been equipped with light artillery, mountain guns, machine guns and possibly tanks, in addition to regular infantry weapons. The Allied troops—Greek and British—defending the island are commanded by Maj. Gen. B. C. Freyburg. The principal points at which the German attackers dropped from the skies—Suda Bay, Heraklion and Ritimo—are indicated on the map, upper right.

DETROIT, May 22.—In the presence of company and union officials, tabulators from the national labor relations board went to work today to tally the approximately 80,000 votes cast by Ford Motor Company Rouge and Lincoln plant workers in a collective bargaining election directed by the NLRB.

Plunge From Fifth Story Of New York Building Proves Fatal

(International News Service)
NEW YORK, May 22.—A plunge from a fifth-story Manhattan penthouse ended in death today for Frances Stutz, 25-year-old Ziegfeld Follies beauty.

John M. Huppman, a salesman, told police Miss Stutz had been living in the penthouse for nine months and that they quarreled early this morning.

"Just then, the telephone rang," he said. "I answered it and as I did so, Frances said: 'Goodbye, John.'"

He was still talking, he said, when tenants of the building pounded on the door to tell him Miss Stutz had been found below, impaled on a picket fence in front of the building. She died in the hospital two hours later.

Secretary Hull Tells France He Considers Armistice Violated

By KINGSBURY SMITH
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, May 22.—The United States government, it was learned today, considers that France already has violated the spirit if not the letter of the armistice terms by permitting Germany to use Syria as a virtual base of aerial operations against the British forces in Iraq.

French Ambassador Gaston Henri-Haye's contention that under article 12 of the Franco-German armistice agreement and article 18 of the Franco-Italian agreement, the Axis powers gained complete control of all French airfields is not accepted by this government.

American Position
American officials take the position that at the time the armistice was signed, the articles governing the French airfields were intended to give Germany and Italy the right to place German and Italian commissioners on the airfields for the purpose of seeing that they were not made use of again against the Axis powers.

However, the articles, it was asserted, were never interpreted by anyone as giving the Germans or Italians the right to use the French (Continued On Page Two)

Counter-Attacks Made By British

Three Successful Attacks On Air-Borne Invasion Army In Crete Reported

By W. P. SAPHIRE
International News Service Staff Correspondent

CAIRO, May 22.—Three successful counter-attacks by British forces in Crete against Nazi Germany's air-borne invasion army were announced by the middle east high command today.

It was admitted, however, that the situation at Maleme was not satisfactory. The Germans have secured a "temporary foothold" there, according to the high command.

News that the British have taken the offensive instead of merely attempting to hold their positions against the invaders was coupled with announcement that all German attempts to land troops and supplies by sea have failed.

Air Landings Continue
"Enemy landings by air are continuing," the communique said. "But as a result of determined action by the royal navy attempts by the Germans to support their air-borne troops with landings by sea so far have been unsuccessful as their convoys have been dispersed or sunk."

Dealing with operations up to late last night, the communique gave but few details of the dramatic and (Continued On Page Two)

Intense Fighting Rages As Germans Land More Sky-Troops On Island

CHURCHILL SAYS SITUATION IN HAND

German Successes Have Been Made At Heavy Cost, Says Churchill

(BULLETIN)
(International News Service)

LONDON, May 22.—Candia, capital of Crete in the days of its ancient glory, has fallen into German hands but the British navy and airforce have turned away a convoy of thirty Nazi transports seeking to land forces sufficient to overwhelm the island. Prime Minister Winston Churchill told the House of Commons today.

By EARL REEVES
International News Service Staff Correspondent

LONDON, May 22.—German capture of Candia, the ancient capital of Crete, was officially admitted by Prime Minister Winston Churchill in the House of Commons today.

Candia, with a population of almost 30,000, is the largest city of Crete. It was the capital of Crete in the island's days of ancient glory. Since 1840, the seat of government has been at Canea, a smaller city near the western end of the island.

Other "local successes" have been scored by the Germans, but only at heavy cost, Churchill said.

Churchill dealt briefly with the Crete situation as reports reached London that the Germans, after drawing on the second division of their invasion army based in Greece, are attempting to land light and heavy tanks by sea.

Intense Fighting
"Fighting is continuing intensely," Churchill said.

"Although the situation is in hand, the Germans have gained some local successes at heavy cost."

"The position at Heraklion (Candia) is that our troops still hold the airfield, although the Germans are now in occupation of (Continued On Page Two)

Family Of Five Burned To Death

FREMONT, O., May 22.—A family of five burned to death today when fire, believed to have been started by a gasoline stove, swept through the two-room frame cottage of Frank Townsend, two miles from Fremont.

The victims, trapped by the flames between them and the cottage's single door, were Townsend, 34, his wife, Elsie, 30, and their three children, Jay, 10; Janice, 5, and Frank, 3.

Anti-Convoy Fight To Be Resumed

Plan To Force Vote In House

Move To Revive Battle On U. S. Naval Convoys Is Revealed

CURTIS TO LEAD FIGHT IN HOUSE

By WILLIAM S. NEAL, International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, May 22.—The anti-convoys fight, temporarily suppressed in the senate, will be raised in the house next week in a drive to force a vote on the issue through a petition to discharge the foreign affairs committee, it was disclosed today.

The house anti-convoys bill, it was learned, has quietly laid plans for a spectacular movement in the belief that they can command enough strength to force a vote over objections of the house leadership.

Plan Revealed
The plan is for Rep. Curtis (R) Neb. to place on the speaker's desk a petition to call his anti-convoys bill to the floor for a vote on consideration. If 218 members, a bare majority, sign the petition, the showdown can be obtained.

The Curtis petition, which will become valid after his resolution has been pigeon-holed in the foreign affairs committee for 30 days without action, calls for a vote on a resolution prohibiting use of armed forces "for transporting, delivering or conveying articles or materials to belligerent countries."

A petition will be filed and we will make a drive for signatures," said Rep. Mundt (R) S. D., a leader of the anti-convoys group. "We think we can bring the issue to a vote and pass a resolution."

"We think all but five or six Republicans will go along, and we know many Democrats will. I have been informed that there has been quite a change of sentiment against convoys and war among southern members."

"We will press the issue even though it was decided not to immediately seek a vote on the Tobey anti-convoys resolution in the senate."

were set on fire, it was claimed, and a cruiser was left listing heavily. The communiqué said bomb hits were scored on one battleship, six cruisers and one destroyer.

The entire action occurred off Crete, it was stated, and apparently was part of the battle raging for possession of the island.

According to the communiqué, Stuka dive-bombers scored a direct hit with a medium-caliber bomb on a battleship. In addition, a heavy bomb exploded close to the stern, assertedly decreasing the ship's maneuvering power.

A cruiser was said to have been hit amidships by one bomb while another exploded at the side of the vessel, causing a severe list and later setting the ship on fire. Another cruiser was said to have been hit on the bow while a third was "fully hit" and caught fire, the announcement said. A fourth cruiser likewise was hit and began to burn.

One destroyer was hit, the high command added, and several bombs exploded so close to other battleships and cruisers that they were believed to have been damaged.

airdrops in unoccupied territory as a base of operations against the British.

While it is recognized that France might not be able to prevent the Germans from using some of the airdromes, it is felt the Vichy government at least could have protested what is considered an obvious violation of the armistice terms instead of acquiescing in a manner as to encourage Germany to make full use of French airfields as bases of operations against the British.

Secretary of State Cordell Hull has made it clear to the French envoy that the spirit of the armistice terms was violated by Vichy's apparent acquiescence in the German move in Syria.

French Tanker Seized By British

LONDON, May 22.—Britain today coupled a warning to Vichy that unoccupied France is subject to attack, with announcement that the French tanker Scherazade has been seized in the Atlantic while on a trip from the United States to Africa.

Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden stressed that no distinction would be drawn between occupied and unoccupied France if Vichy continues her policy of collaboration with Germany.

In the first direct act against the Vichy government, British naval patrols picked up the Scherazade "somewhere in the Atlantic" as she headed for Casablanca.

Hinting that the tanker was seized with the knowledge and consent of Washington, the authoritative British Press Association said developments in Vichy "created a big impression in America as well as here."

The vessel was picked up with the full consent of all concerned.

most of which came from the hard-working secretaries of clubs embraced by the regional rally.

Butler Man Presides
Chairman of the dinner program was W. L. Sarver, Butler, deputy district governor of Region No. 2, while active in the program were Numa P. Vidal, Jr., this city, chairman of Zone No. 2, and C. L. Schmitt, New Kensington, chairman of Zone No. 1.

Presidents of the region's clubs sat at the speakers' table while secretaries were grouped together at one of the seven long tables spread over the Cathedral's main dining room.

City Men Honored
Three New Castle Lions, Past District Governor Earl T. Ramsey, Club Secretary Thomas I. Elliott and Dr. Arthur H. Borland, were honored for distinguished records of perfect attendance. Ramsey has gone 15 years without missing a Lions meeting while both Elliott and Borland have gone 10.

District Governor Courtney, to the plaudits of the 300, presented handsome lapel pins to the three.

Between the dinner and the speaking program pep singing was led by W. O. Red Williams and a steamrolled mock trial, with Lion William D. Cobau, New Castle, acting as judge, added to the merriment. Impromptu pep singing came at different times during the evening.

Huge Picnic Planned
The district governor told the throng in his address that District 14-B gained 14 new clubs during the past year. He said a huge Western Penn. Peninsula Lions picnic is in the planning for this summer at Idlewild park, just west of Lagonier.

Courtney spoke of Lionism's ascendancy to first place among all service clubs—Rotary is now second, he said, but primarily because of its club loss in the totalitarian countries. He said that led to his call for guarding American freedom.

Greeted by the regional host was another district governor—D. E. Van Volkenburg, of Youngstown, new head of Ohio District 13-A.

Presidents At Dinner
Places for the following presidents were reserved at the head table: James G. Leslie, New Castle; Dr. H. E. Snowden, Beaver Falls; Charles Matthews, Vandergrift; Joe Eckert, Ellwood City; Charles J. Lewis, Rural Valley; Walter Wolf, Rochester; Leslie R. Himes, New Bethlehem; George Christy, Farrell; T. F. Shaffer, Apollo; Hugh C. Bannister, Greenville; Larry Fiscus, New Kensington; Dr. H. B. Hall, Ambridge; Joseph Heck, Tarentum, and Lee McCandless, Butler.

Most of the presidents discussed the state convention in Reading June 15-17 and the International convocation in New Orleans July 25-28.

Several of the club delegations motored here under courtesy escort of Pennsylvania motor police.

bloody hand-to-hand encounters raging on the wild, rugged Mediterranean islands.

Further waves of German paratroopers and air-borne troops continued to land at various points in Crete on Wednesday, the statement said.

British and New Zealand troops, aided by Greeks and Cretans, all rendered a magnificent account of themselves. They delivered three successful counter-attacks.

"Enemy losses on Wednesday were even heavier than before. By nightfall the situation was satisfactory in every area except Maleme, where the enemy secured a temporary foothold.

Operations to deal with this situation are now in progress."

the town, which presumably means they are ensconced in certain buildings.

In Canea and the Suda Bay sector there were heavy enemy air attacks followed during the course of the day by further parachute landings which were heavily engaged by our artillery and machine-guns.

"The enemy is now in occupation of the Maleme airdrome southwest of Canea and also occupy an area west of the airdrome which is still under our fire.

"Elsewhere in this sector the coastal line remains in our hands.

"Fighting is going on with deepening intensity and certainly will continue for some time.

"This is a somewhat indeterminate moment in the battle to make a statement. I can only give a provisional account.

Sea-Borne Landing Tried
"Last night the enemy tried a sea-borne landing, but the convoy enroute to Crete was intercepted by British naval forces. Two transports and a number of esques (Greek boats) probably containing troops as well as enemy destroyer escorting them were sunk.

"Large numbers of air-borne (German) troops are being increased daily.

"During the course of today, much larger attempts were made to carry an army into Crete. A convoy of thirty vessels discerned this morning was presumably attacked. The convoy turned away towards the islands of the Archipelago and was being attacked by our destroyers as well as our land forces.

Churchill said he had not received further information as to what transpired.

"Enemy air forces were attacking our ships in relays," he said. "We were attacking their convoys."

No Definite Information
"I am sorry there is no definite information as to the result, but it could hardly be other than satisfactory in view of the naval forces we have disposed in the Mediterranean."

"It is a most strange and grim battle that is being fought," he said. "Our side has no air support because they have no airdromes—not because they have no airplanes.

"The other side has very little—or no artillery or tanks. Neither side has a means of retreat. It is a desperate and grim battle.

"I shall certainly send the wishes, encouragement and approval of this House to the men who are fighting what is undoubtedly a most important battle and which will affect the whole course of the campaign in the Mediterranean."

Questioned as to whether his statement implied that the British in Crete had tanks while the Germans had none, the prime minister said:

"I have not thought of following the matter into those channels."

Also somewhat obscure was Churchill's reference to the lack of airdromes for the British, inasmuch as he said that the air base at Candia is still in British hands.

MRS. ARTHUR M. BROWN REVIEWS FAMOUS BOOK

Members of the conservation and garden department of the Woman's club gathered in the Sheridan avenue home of Mrs. M. R. Hornung, Wednesday afternoon and were pleased to have Mrs. Arthur M. Brown, in her charming way, review "Audobon's America".

Mr. Audobon, who lived from 1785-1861, made a thorough study of birds and painted the most beautiful bird pictures in the world. Mrs. Brown told the group that an Elephant Folio of Audobon's was in the library of Mrs. Charles H. Johnson of this city, and that it takes two men to show the book, because the pictures are life-size.

After business routine was discussed, tea was served at an attractively appointed table, with Mrs. Vennor Bright pouring. Hostesses for the day were Mrs. Hornung, Gertrude Dietterle, Mrs. L. C. Black and Mrs. Harold Ferver.

The Parent Problem

By Garry C. Myers, Ph. D.

HELP CHILD ENJOY BEING OBEDIENT

We considered the problem of the mother, with domestic help, whose tot of 19 months kept her busy all day amusing him. We had only part of her story. Here is more of it:

"He will not play with his toys. All during the day attempts are made to interest him in his playthings but these attempts are constantly interrupted with his climbing of the chairs and tables, opening cupboard drawers, turning lamps on and off, pulling out electric cords, turning on and off the stove control switches and dozens of similar antics. He has been scolded and spanked repeatedly for all these things and has received explanations for most of them. With this going on all day I find it impossible to correct every misdoing. As it is the little fellow never goes to bed with the memory of a happy day. More often than not my husband comes home to find me with my self-control shattered and in a very unhappy state of mind."

Must Understand "No"

In offering a constructive program for training this child to amuse himself with playthings, we cautioned that for this program to work he would first have to learn permanently to avoid certain forbidden acts and objects—to learn the meaning of the precious word "no." This training would seem to be even more essential to the mother who must do all the housework than to the mother who has abundant domestic help.

Therefore, I advised the mother to decide on two or three things the child must never do and then consistently give him instant pain (by spanking) without a single exception until these specific things were permanently, automatically avoided. In the meanwhile she should merely intercept him in other things, aiming eventually to have trained him to avoid all the definite acts that are dangerous and destructive.

Help Child Find Pleasures

It was explained to her that punishment for a forbidden act would be most effective when the child found pleasure in doing something acceptable, and that the more of such desirable activity he enjoyed the less often and persistently would he do the forbidden act.

She was urged to read to him, sing nursery rhymes to him, sing lullabies to him, answer all his questions and express enjoyment over his creations however crude.

And so with a few definite things he can never do without immediate discomfort, hundreds of others he will do with great pleasure, and with the mother keeping herself busy for definite brief periods, leaving the child to make for himself, this child can learn to be happy, safe and self-reliant.

You may have a graded list of playthings by writing me at 235 East 45th street, New York City, enclosing a self-addressed envelope with a three-cent stamp on it.

The World and the Mud Puddles

PROGRESS AND "SHORTS"

We observe with interest that the celebrated Nettleton, Arkansas, shorts case has been reversed in the higher courts of Arkansas.

The Nettleton case arose when the mayor of that somewhat puritanical town, under an 1837 statute prohibiting "public exhibition of nudity," caused the arrest and fining of a 19-year-old girl for wearing shorts. The girl appealed to the Circuit Court and that body set aside the fine and dismissed the charge.

Thus progressed the cause of woman's emancipation. And it has progressed on a way. In civil war times women went abroad wearing bling circus tents. They wore hoops and were a major traffic problem whenever they passed through a door. Sitting down was tricky because the hoops tended to fly up, and, since that was the day when "elegance" included fainting spells at appropriate moments, the knack of sinking gracefully (and modestly) to a recumbent position became a high art.

Amelia Bloomer tried to counteract the hoopskirt with her celebrated and homely neither garment, but the women didn't take to it. Later, in the early bustles, when the woman who stuck out farthest behind was the best dressed, Dr. Mary Walker tried wearing men's clothes.

But not until recently did any of this have effect. We are told it is because of the rise of sun bathing. Whatever the reason, the emancipation has gone right on past the original objective—until it has, in some cases, approached the vanishing point.

But we don't object—as long as the sun worshippers are young and comely, at least. The rest of the world has accepted shorts and Nettleton, Arkansas, may as well fall in line. As Winston Churchill said of another subject, it's like the Mississippi—it just keeps rolling along. Let women's styles roll as long as they do not return to hoop rolling.

HINTS AND DINTS

Sun sets tonight 7:15. Sun rises tomorrow 4:39.

It's all right to give some birds all the rope they want if they get enough to hang themselves with.

We often hear a lot about why men leave home, but we never hear anything about why they don't leave home.

Thirteen million people draw pay from the United States treasury now. You can see why the vote is so big for some when they are out after sumpin'.

What does the Democratic way of life mean?

ARTHUR BRISBANE
1865-1936
At Fifth avenue and 101st street in New York City a 10-foot memorial slab was erected over the stone wall to commemorate Arthur Brisbane, three years after his death.

The inscription:
ARTHUR BRISBANE
1865-1936
American Editor and Patriot
He spread before all a panorama of the events of his times. He was the champion of work and peace before all mankind. He gave to the people a clear understanding of the history of all the ages. He imparted to millions an appreciation and love of the literature, art, and religion which have ennobled the world.

What surprises us is how quickly and completely Brisbane has been forgotten. During a part of his lifetime he was perhaps the most widely read newspaperman. Yet today his name is seldom mentioned in a newspaper and his sayings are rarely reprinted.

In his ability to write about ordinary events in an entertaining way, Brisbane was without a peer. As a model of clear expression, the teachers of English composition should not forget him, although it is true, as one professor writes us, that if he "gave to the people a clear understanding of the history of all the ages," the results are not evident.

Even if money is the root of all evil many people keep on rooting for it.

Although universally condemned, gossip is universally practiced.

A bill before the Pennsylvania legislature would permit saloons to keep open until 4 a. m. in the mornings on week days and until 2 a. m. on Sunday mornings. Why close them at all?

ANOTHER TIME

As two brokers passed the Ziegfeld Theatre, out stepped one of those ravishing, alluring Follies beauties.

One of the worst things that can happen to a person is to have a lot of people think they can borrow money from them.

Possibly the scientist who advanced the theory of man's reversion to the ape type thought he was offering something to look forward to.

Two lunatics were busy in a room hanging some pictures. One was endeavoring to drive a nail into the wall head first by hitting it on the point when, suddenly, he turned around to his friend and remarked, "The man who made these nails was crazy."

The friend wanted to know why, and he explained that the point was on the wrong end of the nail, whereupon his friend immediately told him that it was he who was crazy, because that nail was made for the opposite wall!

Little Georgie received a new drum for Christmas, and shortly thereafter when father came home from work one evening, mother said:

"I don't think that man upstairs likes to hear Georgie play his drum but he's certainly subtle about it."

Father: "Why?"

Mother: "Well, this afternoon he gave Georgie a knife and asked him if he knew what was inside the drum."

Censorship makes people believe falsehood. In a free land, it is done by their own prejudice.

One married couple, celebrating the 69th anniversary of their wedding, revealed the motto: "Do as you would be done by." Note the absence of "or else."

A family reunion can be a happy event, provided nobody among the attendants tries to borrow money from second cousins.

We can't shed tears for a jailed immigrant who made millions and still tried to dodge paying his share of operating costs.

Americans are good sports. They know they pay more taxes because others dodge, yet they won't stoop to informing.

On the theory that too many cooks spoil the broth, a head cannibal in the African wilds is reported to have eaten his sixteen wives.

A man confessed to us that he has invented a new system for preserving peace at home.

"We went out to dinner one night this week," he said. "Next day I told my wife that she had never looked better in all her life. Since then she has been pleasant and cheerful. I haven't the faintest idea what dress she wore or how she looked, but flattery makes her happy and I get my reward in her improved disposition."

Hess Incident May Precipitate Action
Believe Hitler's Hand Will Be Forced
Needs Something To Restore Morale Now

By CHARLES P. STEWART
Central Press Columnist

WASHINGTON, May 22.—Dismissing the theory that Rudolf Hess is a Hitler agent in Britain, that he was sent there to do dirty work in the Nazis' behalf, among the British themselves—

In parenthesis, it decidedly isn't a plausible theory. If Adolf had wanted a Trojan horse, it would have been natural for him to have tried to subsidize a Britishly disloyal Briton, a he did a Norwegian Quisling in Norway and a French Laval in France. A German Hess in Britain is bound to be suspected among Britons from the first off, discounting his influence in their midst. And, as an out-and-out spy, it's hard to see how he can be any use.

He is interned, and even if he finds anything out, can't transmit his information to Berlin. Furthermore, if he were a Trojan horse or a spy, Adolf surely would denounce him as a Nazi traitor, to ingratiate him with the British. But Adolf doesn't do it. He still stands pat that Rudolf's a loyal German, though a nutty one. End parenthesis.

Well, then, assuming that Herr Hess is a genuinely seceding Nazi, it's reasoned by Washington strategists, observing the situation from a distance, that he's likely to prove to have done the British this service if nothing else—

It may turn out that he's forced Adolf's hand.

Adolf wants to proceed with his conquests, of course, Hess or no Hess. But he only wants to undertake 'em, respectively, when he considers the time ripe.

Premature Move

Now, to offset the defection of so prominent a Nazi as Rudolf, he needs to score heavily in a hurry, to rehabilitate possibly rattled German morale. So isn't there a chance that he'll launch one of his jobs prematurely, and come a cropper?

ment still worse? It's seen as a fairly good bet, and certainly is hoped for enthusiastically. Only, critics remark, the British should be prepared for an overly-hasty fresh Nazi swindle and fixated to knock it on the head. Otherwise, it Adolf gets away with it, maybe he WILL counteract the adverse (from his standpoint) effect of Rudolf's flight.

The question arises—How solidly ARE the Germans behind Fuehrer Hitler?

Most of the commentators, whose stuff I read by the columns, say it's impossible to tell, because of the censorship.

NEW YORK—Major Alexander P. de Seversky, noted flier and plane designer, predicts within five years that bombing planes will have a 25,000 mile around-the-world range.

THE BEST OF LIFE
Out of the hours and days and weeks

Out of the flying years,
Out of the far goals which he seeks,
His hurts, his doubts and fears,
Man takes, if but his work be true,
Shelter and food and friends a few.

Man knows his sorrows by their sting,
Of loss he's soon advised,
But happiness—a different thing—
Goes oft unrecognized.
Or thinking greater joys await,
He scorns the lesser, till too late.

Note whether rich or poor he be,
Or much or little gains,
All centered in his family
His peace of mind remains.
And nothing's right when falls the gloom
At evening, save all's right at home!

And looking back across the years,
Man soon or late will find,
Delight lies not in high careers,
But deep in heart and mind.
All happiness begins and ends
With loved ones, shelter, fire and friends.

To Relieve The Strain

WASHINGTON, May 22. IN this place yesterday the great weight of the President's load was discussed and it was reported that there is talk here about ways and means of lightening it. One evidence it was pointed out, that he is attempting to do more than he should is the obvious deterioration in a number of New Deal governmental agencies. Another is the effect upon Mr. Roosevelt personally.

AS was stated before, there is nothing serious the matter with him and, happily, no reason to anticipate there will be. Nevertheless, those who see him regularly and intimately agree that he is tired; that, except at times, he has lost his buoyancy; that he has no time for reflection; that his press-conference gaiety is slightly forced. Apparently, there is no prospect of getting Mr. Roosevelt either to delegate some of his defense burdens, to others or to eliminate any of the routine work of the Presidency, which includes daily seeing all kinds of little people about small things.

YET, quite clearly, it is essential that he obtain more time for rest and thought if he is to make the vital decisions thrust upon him with a judgment unimpaired by fatigue and a temper unfurled by hurry. Alleviating the pressure on him, the suggestion has been made—and, interestingly enough, by members of the press friendly to him and the Administration—that he reduce both the number and length of his White House press conferences. It could be done, it is said, with no loss whatever, and possibly with real gain.

NEVERTHELESS, there is an undeniable strain involved for the President in these conferences, especially at this time. He always keeps himself up for them and displays a great deal of skill in the parrying of embarrassing questions and the sidetracking and suppression of improper ones. The conferences have been characterized, for the most part, by good humor, friendliness and mutual esteem between the President and upon the part of the press. And the benefits have been mutual, too. None of this, however, detracts from the fact that the President uses up a great deal of vitality at a press conference. For the better part of an hour twice a week he meets his audience, and mately matches his audience against that of the newspapermen, sends them away—generally—in good humor and—usually—with a good story. But, as a Senatorial friend of Mr. Roosevelt's said the other day, "When a press conference is over, he is as much exhausted as though he had made an hour's speech."

THE point made now is that in the interest of conserving the vitality of the time of the President, upon both of which there now are such heavy demands, it would be wise to limit these conferences to one a week.

week, and to cut down the length of the one. The fact that, these days, the number of questions concerning foreign affairs which it is impossible for Mr. Roosevelt to answer are bound to multiply provides an additional reason for not holding them as frequently as he has been doing. It will be recalled that Woodrow Wilson, who instituted the White House press conferences, and went into office anxious to conduct all the public's business in public, was compelled to discontinue them sometime before we entered the war solely because he found it inconsistent with the national interests to answer the questions naturally asked. And, besides, he didn't have the time.

WITH Mr. Roosevelt, his friends think, the conservation of his energy and time far outweighs any other reason, such as not being able fully to answer questions on foreign affairs. He always can control the questions and need never answer anything he does not wish to answer. But that does not diminish the tax on his strength and the expenditure of time which could be used in relaxing or reflecting. Probably nothing will come of the suggestion, but it is difficult to see how any interest could be adversely affected if but one conference a week should be held. On the other hand, the benefit might be very great. Certainly it will be agreed that anything that will release the President from strain, even for an hour, is something greatly to be desired.

tive, who spent many years in Germany on his foreign service. I can't name him, but he knows the Fatherland from the ground up. Rather recently he retired and came back to the United States. It was before the present war but well on into Adolf's time.

I asked him, "Isn't there any German hostility to Naziism?" "I've told this story before, but it's extremely apropos at this juncture." "Hostility?" repeated the old gent. "Yes, plenty, and it's very bitter."

"Then why," I asked, "doesn't some well-meaning assassin bump Adolf off?"

Hitler Well Guarded
"Why, you see," was the reply, "in the first place he's guarded to beat a full house."

"But plus that," continued the old chap, "suppose Hitler were to be riding, in his auto, past a big apartment building, like this—"

"The two of us were passing one, in Washington, in his flivver, at the time."

"And suppose that, from one of that building's windows, a shot were to be fired at him."

"It wouldn't matter whether it hit him or not. His escort, if it couldn't determine from which window that shot came, unquestionably would butcher everybody in that house, to be sure they got the right guy."

"A massacre of the Jews would follow."

"Subsequently, if the assassin had finished Hitler, Goering or Goebbels or Himmler would succeed him. It wouldn't be any worse, because that would be impossible, but it wouldn't be any better, either."

"So there'd have been all that slaughter, with an ensuing improvement."

"That prospect is enough to make your 'well-meaning assassin,' if he really is well-meaning and has good judgment, think twice before he acts."

I thought that was a pretty good diagram of conditions in today's Germany. Rudolf Hess evidently doesn't like 'em.

Italian Troops Reported Trapped

(International News Service)
CAIRO, May 22.—Two full Italian divisions are trapped between the jaws of a British imperial pincer in Ethiopia, a military communique said today.

At Sollum, in northwest Egypt, it said, patrols continued their aggressiveness, knocking out an enemy post on Sollum Hill.

In Abyssinia, in the Gondar area, the Sudanese are engaging the enemy.

"In the region of Chelga, farther south, two Italian divisions are trapped between our forces west of Sciamanna. Our troops successfully attacked enemy positions, then repulsed an Italian tank attack, inflicting heavy casualties on the retreating enemy. Many prisoners and much material was taken."

"In Iraq, operations at Falluja are progressing."

Protest Proposed Gas Rate Increase

City Has No Power To Do Anything Except Protest To Commission

City council met today in city hall and adopted a resolution of protest, presented by Councilman Joseph D. Alexander, aimed at a proposed increase in the cost of gas furnished by the Manufacturers Light & Heat company.

The resolution will be sent to the Public Utilities commission. The latter body was asked in the resolution to require proof that the raise is justified.

Councilman Alexander's resolution asserted that excepting for the right to protest to the commission the city has no power to stop the proposed increase and the resolution advised that all complaints be sent to the Public Utilities commission.

Relief Crisis In State Is Feared

Democratic Delay In Acting On Administration's Financial Policy Blamed

(International News Service)
HARRISBURG, May 22.—Pennsylvania will be confronted with a relief crisis within 10 days because of Democratic delay in acting on the administration's financial program, Republican legislative leaders warned today.

House Minority Leader Robert E. Woodside declared the payment of direct relief grants on June 2 may be held up a week due to delay in passing necessary legislation.

"I say to you that if on June 2 relief checks do not go out, as now appears evident, then no one will be at blame but you," Woodside, Dauphin Republican leader, warned the Democratic-controlled house.

"You have been playing politics with relief. You have been sitting on these measures until public assistance will have been delayed."

Requests Company To Restore Avenue

Limestone Removed City Asks That Old Route Be Put Into Condition

Council convened today in the city building and adopted a resolution submitted by Councilman W. H. Dunlap, which requested the Lehigh Portland Cement Company to restore Grandview avenue, between Cascade street and Butler avenue (that portion which connects with the Frew Mill road) to the condition it was in 1900. If the company does not, the fight will be carried to court, the resolution asserted.

According to the resolution the city granted the company the right to remove the limestone beneath the old route. The avenue was closed and the company made a temporary route known by the same name between Cascade street and Butler avenue. The limestone since has been removed, hence the city's desire to have the avenue restored to its former condition.

German Propaganda Blamed For Reports About Martinique

(International News Service)
WASHINGTON, May 22.—Secretary of State Cordell Hull today charged that German-inspired propaganda is responsible for the rumors that the United States intends to take over Martinique, the French West Indian possession.

Commenting on reports that the Martinique authorities had been advised to prepare for an American attack, the secretary said that such German or pro-German inspired propaganda was intended to create an erroneous impression for obvious reasons. He added that there was no change in this government's policy toward Martinique.

Grant Permit For Apple Way Well

New Castle Hotel company (The Castleton) today was given sanction by city council to put a well in Apple Way for air-cooling the hotel.

However, the request was granted on condition that the waste water not be distributed into the sanitary sewer system or public streets.

Councilman W. H. Dunlap presented the motion to permit the digging of a well. Councilman D. O. Davies advised that the city should see that the sanitary sewer ordinance provisions should not be violated, pointing out that if many institutions here installed such a system and disposed of the water through the sanitary sewer system it would overcrowd it.

HAS APPENDIX OUT AT SEVENTY-NINE

After getting along with his appendix for 79 years, that useless appendage flared up on William McCullough, of North Walnut street, recently, necessitating an operation yesterday in the Jameson Memorial hospital.

In spite of the unusualness of the operation, Mr. McCullough is getting along nicely, it was stated at the hospital today.

The only sure thing about spring house-cleaning is that important guests will call in the midst of it.

President Plans Tuesday Speech

(International News Service)
WASHINGTON, May 22.—While official Washington watched progress of the battle of the Mediterranean with growing concern, President Roosevelt today began preparation of the momentous fire-side chat he will deliver to the world next Tuesday night—a speech which observers believe will go far toward clarifying America's future course in a war-torn world.

It is impossible for wheat which was placed in the tombs of ancient Egyptian kings to be planted now and germinate. There is no record of the germination of seeds more than 25 years old.

Report Rumors Of Finding Money In Building Untrue

Contrary to rumor, "not even one copper cent" has been uncovered by the 7-man crew of wreckers at the old Shaw home, 25 North Mill street.

Reports spread today that as much as $23,000 had been found.

"One lady telephoned us to ask if we'd located $23,000, and of course we haven't," said Charles B. Caruthers of the Eckles & Caruthers contracting firm. "That $23,000 rumor probably got started from the $23,000 story."

"We haven't found anything in the walls and flooring—not yet, anyway. We're down now to the first floor, and the entire first floor was rebuilt just a year ago. We don't look for anything in the new part."

The Shaw home, one of the city's oldest, is being razed to make way for the modern home of the First Federal Savings & Loan Association.

WASHINGTON—One out of every 11 acres of cropland in the leading cotton states is unfit for row crop cultivation. The Agriculture Department disclosed recently that 85 million acres of land in the cotton belt are so badly eroded that further use for crops or grazing is impracticable. The department warned that the land not yet eroded, about 90,000,000 acres, will have to be cultivated under a system of conservation farming if they are to remain permanently productive.

Prepare To Open United Service Organization Drive

Organizations for National Defense, Inc., are presented to the conference as a means to this end. Uniting the defense efforts of the nation's six great welfare agencies, Y. M. C. A., the National Catholic Community Service, the Salvation Army, Y. W. C. A., the Jewish Welfare Board and the National Travelers Aid Association, U. S. O. is America's answer to the problem of maintaining and enhancing the morale of our soldiers, sailors, workers—women as well as men—in our new defense industries and of the nation as a whole. It is for this purpose that a national campaign has been inaugurated to raise the huge sum needed to carry out the plan which has been 100 per cent endorsed by leaders from all walks of life in America.

The following letter was sent by P. J. Flaherty, chairman of the Lawrence county U. S. O., to the men and women who will head committees in New Castle and surrounding vicinity:

Chairman's Letter

"At the request of the president of the United States, the United Service Organization for National Defense, Inc., has been organized. The participating agencies in this organization are Y. M. C. A., National Catholic Community Service, Salvation Army, Y. W. C. A., Jewish Welfare Board, National Travelers Aid Association.

"This organization intends to raise $10,765,000 throughout the United States to be used in maintaining and looking after the welfare of soldiers, sailors, marines and defense workers of the nation in camps, bases and manufacturing areas.

"I have been delegated as general chairman for Lawrence county and am therefore calling an organizational meeting to be held at The Castleton hotel on Tuesday, May 27, 1941, at 12:15 o'clock eastern standard time.

"As you are a representative American citizen interested in national defense and the welfare of the boys in the service, I am asking you to be present at this meeting. The meeting will be preliminary in order that we may be able to perfect our Lawrence county organization and to assist in raising the proper quota requested for Lawrence county.

"The program will be a luncheon, followed by a general discussion of plans.

"Sincerely,
P. J. FLAHERTY,
General Chairman."

"Job Must Be Done"

In speaking to the group at the preliminary organization meeting at The Castleton hotel on Wednesday, Mr. Flaherty said: "This is a job that as Americans we must, individually, assume the responsibility of doing. In this crisis our government is turning to its citizens for aid. As a united nation we must back up the men in uniform and the defense workers. The United Service Organization is the answer to the patriotic citizen who asks, 'What can I do to help?' Our quota for Lawrence county is based on 16 cents per head for every man, woman and child. I am confident that with the help of the fine men and women heading these committees, we shall even exceed the amount allotted as our share. I ask that all of you think in terms of now serving your nation through the medium of the U. S. O."

To Examine Members Of Defense Unit

Physical Examinations Of Men Of Company B To Start Friday Night

Physical examinations for men of Company B, 3rd Regiment, Pennsylvania Defense Reserve Corps, will start Friday night, May 23, it was announced today by Captain Frank A. Weber, commanding the unit. At the present time there are seventy-eight applications for service in the unit but it is expected that a number of these will not pass the examinations.

Applications will be received Friday night for enlistment in the unit but none after that. The unit is intended to serve Lawrence, Beaver, Butler and Mercer counties but thus far the enlistments from Lawrence County are not in proportion to the other counties.

The Pennsylvania Defense Reserve Unit is a part of the state and national defense plan. The age limit is between 21 and 50. Uniforms and equipment will be furnished by the state and the unit will serve as a guarantee against subversive interference in the defense program now under way.

Lawrence County men who wish to become a part of Company B are asked to be at the Joseph V. Cunningham Armory Friday night, May 23. Friday night is the deadline for enlistments.

Don't Be The Girl With The Poor Complexion!

Help make your skin clearer... lovelier...this easy way!

● The girl with a poor complexion certainly misses out on a lot of good times. So often she's left out, doesn't have the fun and the friends that should be hers.

If your skin is broken out as the result of some systemic, or internal disorder, see your doctor about it. But if your poor complexion comes from external causes...if it's rough and unattractive-looking, then do as millions of girls are doing—use MEDICATED NOXZEMA SKIN CREAM.

Noxzema is not just a cosmetic cream. It contains medication that helps promote the healing of such ugly blemishes, and its mildly astringent action helps reduce enlarged pore openings. Used regularly, Noxzema helps keep the skin wonderfully soft and smooth.

Nurses were the first to discover the remarkable qualities of this soothing, medicated cream. Now more and more women use it regularly, both as a night cream and as a powder base...

depend upon it to help keep their complexions clear and smooth. Why not see for yourself how much it may do to improve your skin? Get the special 25¢ jar of dainty, greaseless Noxzema Skin Cream for only 19¢ at your druggist's today!

KIDNEYS MUST REMOVE EXCESS ACIDS

Help 15 Miles of Kidney Tubes Flush Out Poisonous Waste
If you have an excess of acids in your blood, your 15 miles of kidney tubes may be overworked. These tiny filters and tubes are working day and night to help Nature rid your system of excess acids and poisonous waste. When disorder of kidney function permits poisonous matter to remain in your blood, it may cause nagging backache, rheumatic pains, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness. Frequent or scanty passages with smarting and burning sometimes shows there is something wrong with your kidneys or bladder.

Kidneys may need help the same as bowels, so ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, used successfully by millions for over 40 years. They give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from your blood. Get Doan's Pills.

Girl Clerk Alert; Two Under Arrest

Police Authorities Claim Ring
Stolen in Ohio Recovered Here

Through the alertness of Miss Margaret Byers, clerk at Mather Bros. store, Detective John Moore and Patrolman Thomas Lynch placed under arrest two colored men, who gave the names of Samuel Maddox and Maceo Mastin and their address as Cleveland, on a charge of suspicion Tuesday afternoon. After an investigation which lasted until Wednesday afternoon, the men were placed in charge of Ohio police and returned to Youngstown where it was charged Maddox had stolen a diamond ring worth about $90.00.

Maddox entered Mather Bros. store while Mastin stayed in an auto outside. While Frank Davoli, another clerk in the store, displayed costly diamonds to Maddox, Miss Byers assertedly saw him "palm" a $375.00 diamond ring. However, the man apparently became nervous and the diamond was returned to the tray. She telephoned police headquarters. When Maddox left the store both he and Mastin were "greeted" by Detective Moore and Patrolman Lynch.

Both were questioned and it was stated by Chief of Detectives Ralph A. Criswell that Maddox confessed to have stolen a $90 ring in Youngstown. This was found in his possession according to Chief of Police Willis McMullen, who summoned Ohio authorities. The men were taken to that city late yesterday.

Vichy Government Is Given Warning By Anthony Eden

(International News Service)
LONDON, May 22.—Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden today sternly warned Vichy that, unoccupied France is subject to British attack if its policy of collaboration with Germany continues. In a review of recent Vichy developments, Eden told the House of Commons:
"If in pursuance of her declared policy of collaboration with the enemy, Vichy takes action or permits action detrimental to Britain's conduct of the war, or designed to assist Germany's war effort, we shall naturally hold ourselves free to attack the enemy wherever he may be found."
"We shall no longer feel bound to draw any distinctions between occupied and unoccupied territory in the execution of our military plans."
Eden said he welcomed American condemnation of Vichy's "new and sinister" policy.

U. S. Consulate To Stay In Paris

Embassies And Legations Are Required To Leave Former French Capital

(International News Service)
BERLIN, May 22.—The United States will be permitted to retain a consulate in Paris, authentic quarters explained today, since yesterday's request that all foreign diplomats leave Paris by June 10 applied only to embassies and legations.

All 34 foreign embassies and legations hitherto located in Paris are affected by the request.

A government spokesman, stating that no consulates were involved, said: "We find it logical that diplomatic representation would establish itself in Vichy, which is the seat of the French government, instead of the former capital."

"As a result of this explanation, it appeared that the German request would not affect United States representation in any way. The American embassy is located in Vichy, and the only American representatives in Paris are Consul Edwin A. Platt and six vice-consuls."

menting on the neutrality act at a press conference.

He added that repeal of the neutrality act "will have to be very carefully considered when we think of delivery" of "the goods" to Great Britain under the lease-lend act.

Stimson told reporters that he always had contended that the neutrality act would "bring us into trouble." Its repeal, however, is a matter for others.

"That's for other officers of the government to tell you about," he asserted.

WHY EATING TOUGH FOOD, AND WITH FINGERS, IS GOOD FOR THE TEETH.

It will be observed often that both parents and their children have bad teeth. But this is no evidence that bad teeth are inheritable. It more likely is the result of all members of the family having the same eating habits. For tooth decay is largely caused by what we eat.

Some amazing things are being done today in dental surgery, but one thing dentists can't do is make a new tooth grow in place of an adult tooth that has had to be extracted as a result of decay. The thing to do for decay is to prevent it, and the best way to prevent it is to eat the proper foods, correctly prepared. Even keeping the teeth and mouth clean is secondary to this.

Parents who would endow their children with good teeth must begin the work in childhood, and to them the following practical suggestions are offered.

The first thing is to avoid allowing refined foods to make up the bulk of the diet. It used to be that refined white flour was one of the greatest enemies of teeth, but today millers are beginning to put back into it the needed vitamins, minerals and oils that are removed when the flour is made by the modern process. If this new "fortified" flour or bread made from it, is not available to her, the housewife is well advised to keep a supply of whole grain flour around for home cooking. It can be wheat or rye flour, for rye can also be used in making delicious bread, delicious pies, cakes and cookies.

Another thing I counsel is the use of natural or raw sugars as much as possible. Modern, refined white sugar, we know is a factor in tooth decay. Corn syrup is a good substitute, so are maple sugar, maple sugar and raw sugar, brown sugar or Demerara sugar, as it is often called. Scientists who have made exhaustive studies say that these sugars do not injure your teeth, for they have tried them on remote tribes with perfect teeth. A similar test showed white sugar did.

I suggest too, that we employ feeding methods that will tend to develop the jaws of the child through more exercise than many get from modern diets. A breast fed baby usually gets adequate exercise for his jaws. If the baby is bottle fed, then short nipples ought to be used, for the long rubber nipple is inadequate from the standpoint of the exercise needed for proper development of the child's jaws.

When a child is given solid food to eat, it is advisable to choose rather tough foods so the jaws will get plenty of exercise. It is wise, too, whenever practical, to let the child pick things up in his hands and eat them instead of cutting them up into small pieces.

In making salads, don't shred the carrots and the lettuce. Leave them in large pieces requiring plenty of chewing. Eat celery by the stalk. All this develops the jaws and keeps teeth healthy.

A doctor I know who had made a study of the effects of eating techniques on teeth, advocated, and practiced—eating everything from his hand, whether it was roast beef, salad or potatoes. Undoubtedly, this method of eating does the most good for the jaws and the teeth, and if most of us eat this way then it will be good etiquette.

The Human Side Of The News

Big Ben is still booming in London, but the outlook isn't so good for bells, in our or peace. Just now, here's an item in the paper from Mt. Vernon, N. Y., about the removal of their old 600-pound fire bell from the fire house and the substitution of a siren. Before long it may be that the bells left will be church bells, echoing a more leisurely and perhaps happier day.

The scream of a siren certainly seems more appropriate to our hectic age of alarms and tensions. One can travel quite away back into his boyhood in just an hour's drive from New York, into Westchester county, or Rockland county, or over into New Jersey. On many a village road he will find fire tocsins earlier and more primitive than the fire bell, those from locomotive wheels, hung by the roadside, with sometimes a hammer and sometimes just a rock to pound them with if you want to turn in a fire alarm. They yield a reverberating alarm of astonishing carrying power. Sometimes we have wished that something would catch fire, so we could recover the small-boy excitement of setting up a resounding clamor over the countryside.

They tell me that has been one trouble with these roadside fire alarms. Small boys just can't resist them, fire or no fire. I know a scared, frustrated little man who seems about ready to crack up under the long strain of war and depression. I wonder if it wouldn't be a good idea to fake a fire and let him pound one of those roadside fire bells. So much noise for such a little man! It might make him feel important and significant. Psychologists tell me that the individual human ego is taking a terrible beating these days and anything which bucks it up is all to the good. However, the Nazis made a lot of trouble for everybody by ized village fire department offers no substitute for it. The rope hung free in the bell-tower for any citizen to pull and start the clangor which brought the volunteers running.

In the post-mortem of the fire, in the poolroom or the drugstore, the man who got there first and rang the bell added cubits to his stature. Even in the softened and sunny retrospect of our treasured yesterdays, there was a lot of boredom in an American small town of a few decades back. I have an idea that we enjoyed our fires, and the young bucks who made up the companies certainly did. Then there were those inter-town fire company competitions, also on the Fourth of July, with a varied program of races and competition in getting water flowing in the fewest possible minutes or seconds after an alarm.

Fire, of course is always good theatre, but it seems to me that the drama of old-time fire-fighting was greatly enhanced by the fact pretty nearly everybody had a hand in it and got a play for a bit of self-dramatization. It is difficult to get a siren and motorized equipment so clearly into this picture of dramatic, co-operative community enterprise. The siren the current which feeds it and the gasoline which drives the engines all ramify widely into a world which meets a new curse in encroaching de-personalization. Events which menace us seem so far beyond our control and our understanding. Not so with the old fire bell and the hose and the cart-manned by Harry Wiggins and Chub Metcalf. The world was made up of people and things we knew and over which we had measurable control. But there's one comfort for old-timers. They haven't started putting sirens on churches yet. They may have to, though, the way the flames are creeping up on all citadels of morality and decency.

In 1404, at Coventry, England, a parliament convened by Henry IV, was known as the "Parliament of Dunces," the "Unlearned Parliament" and the "Lack-learning Parliament." All lawyers were excluded.

SALUTE TO STEEL

"Steel Industry has what it takes," says Lowell Thomas in this week's SATURDAY EVENING POST after an extensive behind-the-scenes survey of defense activities.

LOWELL THOMAS, famous news commentator

HOW private industry is meeting the desperate challenge of providing for our nation's defense is exemplified by the great job that is being done by the men of steel.

Even those who are actually part of "Steel," going about their daily jobs, perhaps do not fully sense the important role they are playing to lick the greatest defense problem this country has ever faced. And the problem is being licked. America, paced by "Steel," is doing the impossible, is going "all out." THE MEN OF STEEL, dedicated to the American way of life, have demonstrated their fitness for this titanic task.

Because we of Johns-Manville have had the privilege of serving the Steel Industry for over 80 years, we know at first hand the indispensable job that is being done and we sincerely believe that more people should know a great deal more about the all-important contribution the steel industry is making in arming our country. We engaged Lowell Thomas to tell this story to the American public, and what he has to say appears on pages 85 and 86 of this week's issue of the SATURDAY EVENING POST. The title is "Steel Men Say: 'We will do the job!'"

Johns-Manville paid for the space the Steel Industry story occupies at regular advertising rates. It is the first of a series telling what America's basic industries are contributing towards building defense. In his story of "Steel," Lowell Thomas tells what he saw, what he heard, what he discovered, as a result of a nationwide survey. We know you will want to read every word of it.

Johns-Manville joins with Lowell Thomas in paying sincere tribute to a great industry and in saying to all America: "Salute to Steel!"

Be sure to read the story by Lowell Thomas, "Steel Men Say, 'We will do the job!'" pages 85 and 86, Saturday Evening Post, on your newsstand today.

Tally Number Of Clothing Articles Made At Meeting In Church Wednesday

A report of the products listing the number of each turned out by the ladies of Mahoningtown at their weekly sewing session, was made Wednesday at the meeting in the Mahoningtown Presbyterian church.

The ladies have been working steadily for several months and have made many things to be distributed by the American Red Cross to needy persons.

At the present time the ladies are working on skirts for girls in the 14-year age group. The skirts, as well as all the other products, are being made to Red Cross specifications.

Men's bathrobes were the first items made by the local group. They made 180 articles of baby clothing, 32 ladies dresses and 84 men's shirts since undertaking the project.

The weekly session is open to any person in the district who can sew. The meetings are held at 1:30 o'clock each Wednesday in the Presbyterian church.

GLORIA LAUGHLIN
ENTERTAINS CLASS

Members of the Golden Rule class of the Mahoning Methodist church that is taught by Mrs. Jess Gehrkens held a meeting at the North Cedar street home of Gloria Laughlin on Wednesday evening.

Business meeting was in charge of Jean Plack. Games were played and prizes went to Doris Jean Nickerson, Maxine Smoot and Jean Plack. Plans were made for a picnic at Darlington Lake on June 13. Jean Plack and her committee will be in charge of arrangements.

Luncheon was served by the hostess, aided by her mother, Mrs. R. G. Clark.

BITS OF NEWS
IN WARD AREA

Properties along West Clayton street are especially attractive at the present time with many flowering shrubs in full bloom and early flower gardens at their best.

Many persons in the district are taking advantage of the fine weather and are having roofs repaired and outside work done, it has been noticed.

Since the settlement of the coal strike two weeks ago, the trains going through the Seventh Ward have been bigger and more heavily loaded than usual.

One of the most attractive hillsides in the area is in front of the Crawford-Oakridge NYA Resident Center, Atlantic avenue. The hill has been changed from an impossible lawn into a beautiful rock garden.

Track team at Mahoning school and the regular gym classes use the athletic field at the corner of Madison and Newell avenues all day long. Although the field is rather small the youngsters have a good time.

News items for the Seventh Ward news column may be left at Solomon's news stand, North Liberty street.

Sponsors of the Memorial Day parade have stated that they expect this to be one of the biggest and best parades held here in some time.

May Probe Report War Materials Furnished Axis

(International News Service)
 WASHINGTON, May 22.—Asserting that he has received "numerous reports" of American and British firms furnishing war materials to the Axis powers, Sen. Gillette (D) Iowa, today urged speedy approval of his resolution for a congressional investigation.

"This is a very vital subject to the defense effort of this country," Gillette, a member of the senate foreign relations committee, said. "I have numerous reports where American and British companies are furnishing the Axis powers with war materials. Such information warrants an inquiry by congress in the interest of our defense effort."

Gillette's resolution, reported favorably by the senate commerce committee, would authorize the expenditure of $20,000 for the investigation by a joint senate and house committee of five members each.

He said that the "most flagrant" example of war materials being sent to the Axis powers is occurring in the sale of petroleum to Japan and Russia which is later shipped to Germany.

Broadening Christian Horizons — Peter's Vision

Highlights On The Sunday School Lesson

The Golden Text

Vision of St. Peter

"And Peter opened his mouth, and said, Of a truth I perceive that God is no respecter of persons."—Acts 10:34.

By NEWMAN CAMPBELL

(The International Uniform Lesson on the above topic for May 25 is Acts 10:1-11:18. The Golden Text being Acts 10:34. "And Peter opened his mouth, and said, Of a truth I perceive that God is no respecter of persons.")

Simon, whom Jesus had called Peter, the Rock, had gone to Joppa, after Saul had been driven from Jerusalem by threats on his life. There Peter had raised up a woman, Tabitha or Dorcas, from the dead.

At Caesarea, 30 miles south of Joppa, lived a Roman captain or centurion, who was commander of 100 men, Roman soldiers who were supposed to maintain order among the conquered people, the Jews. This captain, Cornelius, was a devout man, one that feared God with all his house, and gave charity to the people of the city.

About 3 o'clock one afternoon, while Cornelius was praying, he had a vision. An angel of God appeared to him, calling him by name. Cornelius was afraid and asked, "What is it, Lord?" The angel answered that Cornelius' prayers and alms had pleased and been accepted by the Lord, and that he was directed to send men to Joppa, instructing them to look for the house of a tanner named Simon, and to ask his house for one Simon whose surname was Peter.

Sends Three to Joppa

servants and a soldier he could trust, and told them what they must do, so the three started for Joppa.

As these men neared Joppa, Peter, who of course knew nothing about Cornelius or his messengers, went up on the flat housetop to pray. As it was nearly dinner time, Peter became very hungry, and he fell into a trance and had a vision. In his vision Peter saw a sheet which was let down from heaven by its four corners. In the sheet Peter saw all manner of beasts, birds and creeping things. A voice told the hungry Peter to kill and eat. Shocked, Peter, who had been brought up as a Jew in the strict Levitical law, answered, "Not so, Lord, for I have never eaten anything that is common or unclean."

"And the voice spake unto him again the second time, What God hath cleansed, that call not thou unclean." At that the sheet was drawn up again into heaven and Peter was left wondering what the vision meant.

Cornelius Worships Peter

At that moment Cornelius' messengers were at the door, asking for Peter. The Spirit which had spoken to Peter told him that three men were seeking him, and that he should go with them, "doubting nothing". But for this assurance you can imagine Peter might have been afraid to go with these strangers.

So Peter went down to the men and they told him of Cornelius' vision and asked him to go with them. Peter gave them lodging that night and in the morning he took certain brethren from Joppa and accompanied them to Caesarea, where Cornelius awaited them with his kinsmen and near friends.

As Peter approached Cornelius' house, the latter met him and fell at his feet to worship him. But Peter raised him, saying, "Stand up; I myself also am a man." Then Peter went into Cornelius' house and seeing the many gathered together he reminded them that, as a Jew, he was not supposed to go into a Gentile's house, but that after his vision of the sheet from heaven and God's rebuke he realized that "God was no respecter of persons". In other words, Jews and Gentiles were all one in the sight of the Lord.

Then Peter, after hearing Cornelius tell of the angel that came to him and caused him to send for Peter, began to speak to those gathered in Cornelius' house of Jesus' life, death and resurrection, and straightaway the Holy Ghost fell upon those present, and they began to "speak with tongues, and magnify God", as the apostles had done when the Holy Ghost fell on them. Then Peter commanded that water be brought and that they be baptized.

When the disciples in Jerusalem heard that Peter had baptized Gentiles, they disapproved, and when Peter returned to Jerusalem, they argued with him. They seemed to think the Christ was for the Jews alone. Peter, however, told them just what had happened—of his vision and of the angel that had appeared to Cornelius, and how the Holy Ghost had fallen on Cornelius and his company.

"Then I remembered the word of the Lord, how that He said, John indeed baptized with water; but ye shall be baptized with the Holy Ghost."

"Forasmuch then as God gave them the like gift as He did unto us, who believed on the Lord Jesus Christ; what was I, that I could withstand God?"

When they heard these things, the fault finders held their peace and glorified God, saying, "Then hath God also to the Gentiles granted repentance unto life."

Trial Continues In Federal Court

Further Testimony Is Being Heard In Income Tax Case At Pittsburgh

(International News Service)
 PITTSBURGH, May 22.—A Pittsburgh department store bill for personal apparel was marked off in McClellan J. Donnelly's income tax case as advertising, a government witness testified today as the New Castle insurance broker's income tax evasion trial continued in federal court.

R. P. Fierse, an internal revenue agent, said a check for $233.69, paid to the Pittsburgh department store was listed on Donnelly's 1935 return as advertising. He said he traced the check, with which payment was made, from the checkbook to the income tax return.

The department store bill, covering purchases from Sept. 1934 to April 15, 1935, including such items as shirts, gloves, ties, handkerchiefs, lingerie, skirts etc. the government witness said.

The testimony went into the record over the objections of Defense Attorney John Ray.

DAILY DOZEN
(From the Medical Society of the State of Pennsylvania)

Pennsylvania leads in the National Defense Program. Its industries have $700,000,000 worth of contracts. It requires manpower to see these contracts through. Accidental deaths, injuries and illness effect the defense work. As industry increases, so will accidents increase. Industrial safety experts are busy setting up safety programs. Accidents disrupt and delay production schedules. Machines and equipment are damaged and materials wasted. Most important, trained workers are lost at this vital time. Sickness and accidents outside plants, lose valuable time. Conservation of manpower in de- fense industries is necessary. Working in safety means better defense of America.

Meet the pitcher who actually smiles when New York Yankee batters smash his offering into home run land.

Paul Screiber is the name.

His name doesn't appear in the box score because he only tosses to the Yankees during batting practice.

His job is to lay the horsehide in the middle so that DiMaggio, Keller, Dickey, Rolfe, Selkirk and company can dial their hitting eye.

While he has never pitched a regular game for the Yanks, Screiber ranks as one of Joe McCarthy's important men.

VISITS CAMP CROFT.

Mrs. Louis Ferrucci, Wampum, has returned from Camp Croft, S. C., where she visited her son, who is in training with the United States Army there.

According to Mrs. Ferrucci the boys have a beautiful camp and the weather is quite warm.

Mrs. Ferrucci states that the boys appear to be homesick and when the Pennsylvania lads saw the license plates on the Ferrucci car they flocked about it to find out where it was from.

But why teach kids that Columbus discovered America when we have proof that Norsemen penetrated far inland a century earlier?

State Is Sixth In Population Density In U. S.

By ARTHUR C. WIMER (Special Washington Correspondent, New Castle News)

WASHINGTON, D. C., May 22.—There are more residents per square mile in Pennsylvania than all but five states, the census bureau said today.

The bureau based its report on an analysis of 1940 population. Pennsylvania's 1940 population numbered 9,900,180. Land area of the state aggregated 45,045 square miles. Density of population was thus 219.8 persons per square mile.

This contrasted with a national average of only 44.2 residents per square mile. States with greater densities than Pennsylvania were: Rhode Island, 674.2 residents per square mile; New Jersey, 553.1; Massachusetts, 545.9; Connecticut, 348.9; New York, 281.2.

Nevada had the lowest density—only 1 person for each square mile.

Warning Issued To Hollanders

(International News Service)

BERLIN, May 22.—The German commissar in occupied Holland today issued stringent new regulations "for maintenance of public order."

An official DNB agency dispatch from Amsterdam said that jail terms and fines were threatened for "illegal party activity" as well as anti-German demonstrations and distribution of anti-Nazi pamphlets and cartoons.

Any person found in possession of anti-German propaganda literature will be subject to jail terms.

(Editor's Note: The German government recently announced the arrest of scores of Dutch citizens for alleged anti-German activity. Reports in London since that time have hinted at rising Dutch opposition to the German occupation.)

In an opinion handed down by Judge W. Walter Braham on Wednesday, a borough ordinance of Ellwood City regulating the hours during which barber shops can operate is declared unconstitutional and two sections of the ordinance are voided.

The decision came about as the result of an appeal of Charles Turner, a barber of Ellwood City, against the ordinance. The ordinance prescribed the hours of opening and closing. Under its provisions no barber shop could open before 8 o'clock in the morning nor remain open after 5:30 in the afternoon, save for Saturdays when they could remain open until 8 o'clock in the evening. Wednesday afternoons and legal holidays the shops were to remain closed, with permission to remain open until 8 the night before. Turner attacked the ordinance on the grounds that it was unconstitutional and that it was an unwarranted delegation of legislative powers. The court agreed with this position and ruled in favor of Turner.

Friday morning will be sentence court, Judge Braham said Wednesday. A few sentences are to be handed down.

In an opinion handed down Wednesday Judge W. Walter Braham refused a motion for a new trial for Mrs. Leila Mae Dixon, slayer of her husband, Walter Dixon. She was convicted of manslaughter and Judge Braham upheld the conviction. Mrs. Dixon will likely be sentenced Friday.

The court house is broken out with romance at the present time. Just now, three of the young ladies in various offices are wearing diamonds and one of the young men is booked for a party at the preacher's.

Since County Treasurer Earl R. Wimer has been in office, eight of his help have succumbed to the wiles of Dan Cupid. The commissioner's office has suffered heavy romantic casualties also.

Market prices to the contrary, County Treasurer Earl R. Wimer knows the price of turkey is high just now. Returning from Harrisburg on Tuesday a turkey flew out from some bushes along the highway between Harrisburg and Carlisle and practically committed suicide against Wimer's windshield. Cost of a new windshield, $11.

Harry Francis Johnson has been returned from the Kentucky state prison at La Grange, Ky., to be tried on charges of robbery here. County Detective Paul A. Welsh brought Jackson back.

"We must learn to think in bigger terms," Ed. Now, let's see. What comes after billion?

Talk is cheap. Real patriots are those who sing "God bless America" while standing in line to pay taxes.

Mooseheart Welcomes Largest Family and 33 Year Old Mother

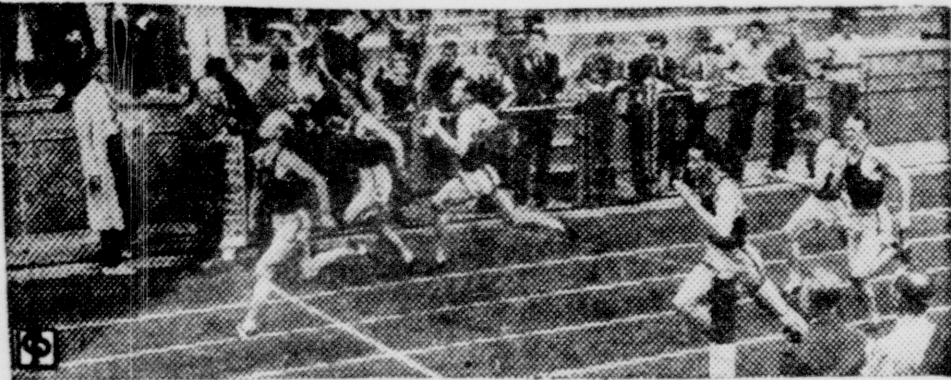

Pictured above is the largest family ever to be welcomed to the new famous Child City at Mooseheart, Illinois, established and maintained by the Loyal Order of Moose. This fine American family, consisting of the 33 year old mother and her 10 children ranging in ages from 2 to 14 years, will have residence at Mooseheart until the youngest child graduates at the approximate age of 18½ years. Each child will be given a High School education, and will have Vocational instruction in one or more practical trades. The husband and father, Clyde William Nicholson, maintained a home for his healthy brood of youngsters and their mother in Cambridge, O., and had been a member of the Moose Fraternity there for a period of only five years. Mr. Nicholson, an automobile mechanic by trade, died as the result of a heart attack at his home on December 14th, 1940. While a member of the Moose, he paid to his lodge in dues approximately $50.00. Because he was in good standing at the time of death, all obligations to his family will be fulfilled and the Moose will spend on the late Mr. Nicholson's wife and ten children the sum of $100,000 or over. This money represents all costs of welfare, academic education and vocational training through the years that the 10 children will spend at Mooseheart, in addition to the painful employment of Mrs. Nicholson while enjoying life with her family at the Child City.

Local Lodge No. 51 of the Moose is now putting on a drive for new members, headed by Hugh D. Horton as chairman. The Lodge now has 1,000 members. There will be an initiation of a large class of new members on Sunday, June 15, at 2 p. m. followed by a dinner, floor show and dance for all members, in honor of 1941 class of graduates at Mooseheart.

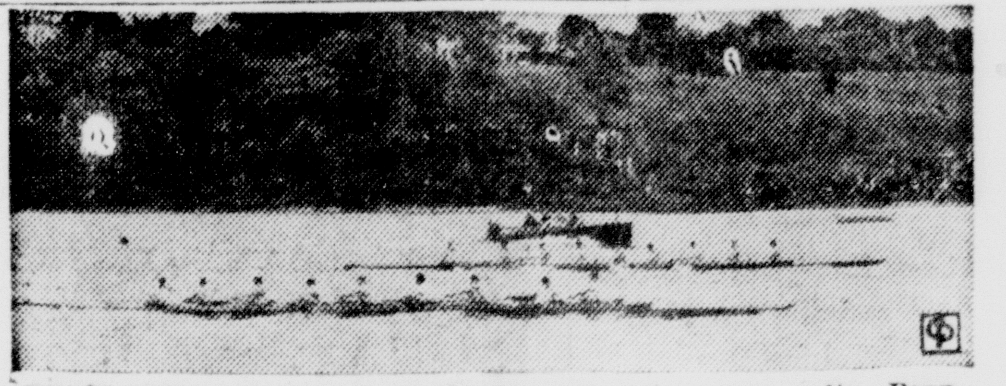

In the past year this lodge has paid out over $5,000.00 in benefits. At the present time plans are being made to increase the size of the present building to take care of the increase in membership. During the present drive the membership fee is $5.00 and dues are $1.00 per month, paid quarterly. Sick and accident benefits pay $7.00 per week, with a death benefit and your family protection as above in Mooseheart.

Titans Second In Meet At Geneva

W. & J. Finishes First In Tri-State Meet With Westminster Close Behind

MILLER-CHRISTY ARE TITAN STARS

(Special To The News)
BEAVER FALLS, May 22.—The Washington and Jefferson college track team won the annual tri-state track and field meet at Geneva yesterday with a total of 531-3 points, but had to be on their toes the entire way as Westminster college sent a well balanced team to the meet and placed second to the Presidents with 491 points. Belhany finished third with 461-3 points.

Other colleges finished as follows: Grove City 307-10 points, Geneva 201 points, Slippery Rock 18, Thiel 4, Carnegie Tech 2 and Indiana Teachers 1.

Westminster's classy squad captured seven first places in the meet as follows:

440-yard run—Christy. Time, 53.2 seconds.
1 mile run—Edwards. Time, 4 minutes 40.4 seconds.
6 half-mile run—Christy. Time, 2 minutes 7.6 seconds.

1 mile relay—Westminster first (Christy, Anderson, Girdwood and Findlay). Time, 3 minutes 48 seconds.

Broad jump—Demise. Distance, 20 feet 8 inches.
High jump—Miller. Height, 5 feet 6-4 inches.

Pole vault—Miller. Height, 11 feet 4 inches.

It was the relay that gave the Washington and Jefferson team its victory. They had a five-point lead going into the relay, the final event on the card, and Westminster won the event with the W. & J. boys finishing third to assure them in the victory.

Double winners for the Titans were Nowal Christy and Fred Miller, the basketball star. Christy cleaned up in the quarter mile and half mile runs and Miller won his two firsts in the high jump and pole vault. The Titans did not have enough second and third place men in the meet.

ROSE BOWL PANTHERS
The Rose Bowl Panthers won their opening game of the season yesterday at the Rose Bowl field from the All-Stars 17 to 10. The game was tinged with exciting plays. Logan was the winning hurler and Dean was the catcher. For the All-Stars the batteries were: Dorey Harper and Newell. Lipp shone on the offense with three safe hits.

KLINGENSMITH TO BOX BILLY REALE MONDAY NIGHT

Although the Lester Leasure vs. Russell Baxter amateur middleweight fight in the air-cooled Arena, Monday night, will prove a strong magnet, the fact remains that two other glove gladiators will get their share of fistful evedom. They are Billy Reale, the Castlewood plowboy, and Marion Klingensmith, the Vestaburg Dutchman.

Both have swung their way into the heart of fandom. They have agreed to box at 165 pounds. Both are good sockers although neither is a punch straight. Marion has a wicked left hook and Reale a wallop right. It would not surprise any ardent devotee of fistfuls that one of the pair stretched cold as an ice-box cucumber before the third round ends.

A slam-bang is also anticipated when the heavyweights, Johnny Koval of Farrell and George Morosky of Brownsville, answer the bell. As a rule a heavyweight fight is either fast or slow and also either ends quickly or drags out. Up Farrell-way, fans think considerable of Koval.

Jimmy Eadie, a rangy Negro from Vestaburg, will fight Billy Ferriock of Youngstown at 130 and Ellwood City's aggressive Larry Retardo has been doctored to tackle Lloyd McKain, of Warren, at 136. Johnny Watson of Vestaburg will fight Tommy Brockan, said to be good, from Warren at 147.

The first fight of the Evening's Evenin', will find Fred Conti of Farrell toting the mark with Sammy Reghetti of Warren and Al Wolgast, once a husky battler of Farrell will second Freddie Conti against Dennis Harvey of Warren, in a flyweight bout, the second to be staged Monday night.

Arrangements were made today to install several hundred extra seats in The Arena. The Fraternal Order of Police (composed of city officers) hope to realize sufficient funds to coil themselves in new uniforms. The Jefferson A. C. is staging the bout under the supervision of the State Athletic Commission and A. A. U.

HERE AND THERE IN SPORTS LAND

Two of the neatest plays pulled off in the Lawrence County League play so far this year were the doubles by Powell, Brown and Marshall of the Wampum team which dropped a game to the hard-clouting Bessemerites Wednesday. Hardesty, while wild, bore down in the tight spots and was master of the hit. . . . Antion, Christoforidis, the Greek, is an eight, five favorite to beat the White Russian, Gus Lesnevich, in New York tonight. . . .

Grove City bagged golf and net victories from Slippery Rock at the latter place yesterday, 9-5 to 8-5, respectively. McBride beat Dutkin, in golf; Bukowski won from Packard, Grove City and Dart, another local lad, bowed to Colwell, Grove City. . . .

Lew Jenkins and Sammy Angott will sign in Pittsburgh, Monday, for their title fight in New York in September. Lew holds the title in New York and Sammy is the NBA king of lightweights. . . .

Joe Louis Not Underestimating Young Brother Of Former Champion Max Baer

By BILL ZIMMERMAN
International News Service Sports

WASHINGTON, May 22.—For one buck today you can easily find a ten spot in Washington that heavyweight king Joe Louis will retain his crown tomorrow night against Buddy Baer, the younger member of the Baer clan.

Further betting in the capital is that the challenger will not go more than five rounds, with many experts predicting that the Brown Bomber will dispose of him in three. Both fighters are claimed to be in perfect shape for the 15-round engagement at Griffith Stadium which is expected to draw 25,000 spectators and a gate of $125,000. Finishing heavy training, Louis tips the scales at 202 pounds while Baer carries 237 pounds on his six foot four frame.

Bill Dinneen, the recently retired umpire, pitched 37 consecutive complete games for the Boston Red Sox back in 1904.

CITY BASEBALL GAMES TONIGHT

Elders Will Play At Ryantown, Croton Going To West Pittsburg For Battle

Four more games will be played tonight in the City Baseball League, all games starting at 6 o'clock. The league leading Elder A. C. will go to Ryantown for a battle, with Leroy Anderson slated to go to the mound for the Ryantown team. This looks like a great pitching contest.

Hartman has asked Manager Joe Samuels for a chance to face his former Elder mates and thinks that he can defeat them. He will get his chance tonight Manager Joe Samuels told the writer Wednesday. The Elders have won four straight and are undefeated in the league to date, and hope to continue their strank through the entire first-half.

West Pittsburg will play host tonight to the fast Croton team, Manager Danny DeGenova planning to send Braky to the hill in an effort to get back into the win column. Croton has Stone ready for mound work.

The Slovaks will tangle with the Moose at the Marshall field site. The Lawrence Indies will go to the Lee avenue field to do battle with the revamped West Side A. C. team. The Indies are hoping to overtake the Elders. The Elders and Indies clash next Sunday at Marshall Field in what should be the best game of the league season to date.

SPORTS WORLD RAMBLINGS

Shooting a few arrows here and there:

The gent behind the desk was puffing away leisurely at his pipe as we strolled in. After the usual discussion about the fine weather, baseball came up for a bit of airing. In between puffs, the affable gent rattled off a lot of deep baseball stuff, figures, oddities about pitchers etc. . . .

During the question firing, we learned that Alderman Jimmy Brice was quite a player in his younger days. He played with St. Bonaventure College and later in the Eastern Pennsylvania League. He joined the loop at a time when Waite Hoyt, the immortal pitcher, was starting out. . . .

"The way Hoyt looked at the start, you'd never think he was destined to become one of the game's best. He was wild and awkward. He soon learned and had success written all over his face. A great guy through and through. So is Beau Bell, the Indian outfielder," continued the genial alderman. . . .

In his baseball travels, Brice met quite a few of the big shots of the game. Exceedingly modest, Jimmy wouldn't have mentioned a thing about his diamond career if someone else had not pressed him a bit. He has never forgotten the game which was kind to him in more than one respect. He really knows the ABC's of the game. . . .

Bobo Newsom, Detroit's chunky pitcher, is shagging flying balls during practice sessions, a measure designed to knock off some of that extra weight which has retarded his progress this season. . . . Buck Ross, the pitcher acquired by the White Sox, won 34 and lost 64 during his five year tenure with the Athletics.

Luke Hamlin, the Brooklyn twirler, will collect a bonus of $200 for each game he wins until he has 10. Thereafter, Hamlin will get prize money at the rate of $400 a victory. His basic salary, however, is about $5,000, half of what he drew during the 1940 stretch. . . .

Claude Passeau, Cub pitcher, owns several farms in southern Mississippi which grow tung trees, the oil of which are used in paints and plastics. Connie Mack received no less than 5,000 telegrams last Saturday when he was honored in Philly. . . . Someone says Cincy can't

Cardinals Beat

Harry Gumbert Recently

By PAT ROBINSON
International News Service Sports
Writer

NEW YORK, May 22.—There always have been and probably always will be some strange happenings in baseball. Very often, they were weak hitters who could hit only a certain great pitcher or an ordinary pitcher who could beat only a certain club or stop only a certain power hitter.

Offhand, we recall that Joe Tinker always could hit the immortal Christy Mathewson even if he could hit nobody else. Little Doc Goutreau could slam the daylights out of anything the great Dazzy Vance threw at him.

Gumbert Tops Dodgers
No later than yesterday Gumbert, now a Cardinal, continued his mastery over the Dodgers by beating them, 9 to 3, to run the Brooklyn losing streak to five straight. This particular jinx, worked often enough, may cost the Dodgers the pennant.

The Pirates spotted the Braves four runs and then went on to beat them, 6-4. The Cubs downed the Phillies, 7-3, on Nicholson's grand slam homer and some sturdy relief pitching by Mooty.

Feller Tames Senators
Over in the other wheel, the outstanding feature of the day was the pitching of Bob Feller who gave only four hits over an 11-inning span to beat the Senators, 4-0. Ken Chase traveled right along with him until he blew in the final heat.

The Yanks put over two in the ninth to tie and then won over the Tigers on Rolfe's fourth hit—a triple—in the tenth. The score on that one was 5-4.

The Browns got four homers, making seven in their last two games, and yet lost again to the Red Sox, 8 to 6. And the White Sox played ragged ball behind young Hallett to lose to the Athletics, 7-6. Wally Moses' ninth inning homer with one aboard was the pay-off.

Sons Of Italy Pull Surprise On
Bronzers 8 To 6, Sunny
Boys Defeat Fannins

Coming from behind in the last three innings the Sons of Italy of New Castle sprung a real surprise on the highly touted Johnson Bronze softball team in a Lawrence county league game last night at Gaston Park winning 8 to 6.

A large crowd witnessed the game. Tony Capp did the Sons of Italy pitching and held the Johnson Bronze sluggers to five hits. The Sons of Italy had 13 hits off of Pezzone and Pascarella. Heavy hitting was done by Turco, DeCaprio, F. Colella, and Capp.

The score by innings:
Sons of Italy . . . 011 022 0—8 13 3
John Bronze . . . 140 100 6 5 2
Batteries—Sons of Italy: Tony Capp and Fava; Johnson Bronze: Pezzone, Pascarella and Kelly.

The Sunny Boys handed the Fannins a neat 2 to 1 upsetting last night at Rose avenue field in a Lawrence county softball game with Abraham the winning hurler and Dinks Lane the loser. Lane hurled a three-hitter but the Sunny Boys bunched their hits and tallied two runs, while the Fannins could make but five hits account for one lone run.

Dick Joseph had the only extra-base hit in the game a double accounting for one of the Sunny Boys runs.
Score by innings:

Fannins . . . 000 001 000—1 5 0

Fast Competition

Paced by Ted Lach's sub-par round of 35, the strong A. & J. team of the Sylvan Heights league managed to hang onto their slim lead in the race for first half honors last evening by defeating the Saegertown by a score of 4-2.

Shenango Pottery, champions two years ago and runners-up last year, are in second place one point behind, while last year's champs, New Castle Moose, are also pressing close on their heels with 11 points. While Workmen's Social of Ellwood City, with a strong combination, is also much in the race with 10 points to their credit to date.

The potters defeated Workmen's Social of Ellwood City by a score of 3½ to 2½, while the Moose forged from the rear with a 4½ to 1½ victory over Royal Bri to get into the running. Other results were: Ellwood City Moose 3½, Universal Sanitary A. A. 2½; Shelby Social 3, Duca D'Abuzzi 3.

In addition to Lach's sub-par round, Izzy Solomon of the A. & J. team was one over par with 37, equalled by A. Cimmi; Marty Segedi, Fred Lombardo had 38's and P. DeMauro, Louis Malik, Chuck Perrotta, Jimmy Galone, Ernest Smith, C. Pezzi and M. Macioje had 39's.

Definite steps were taken to secure the Western Pennsylvania Public Links Open Tournament at a meeting of members of the Sylvan Heights Golf League and other interested golfers in the course clubhouse last evening. The league voted to underwrite the expense of the tournament, removing any obstacle in regard to financing the tournament.

William T. Saul was elected general chairman of the committee in charge of arrangements, with William C. Fleming, vice chairman, and Marty Kovach, secretary and treasurer.

Geno Veri, president of the golf league and U.S.G.A. representative for Lawrence county, will go to Pittsburgh this evening to confer with district U.S.G.A. officials in regard to securing a date for the tournament, and making other arrangements necessary.

The tournament will take place some time during the latter part of August, and is expected to bring in the neighborhood of 200 of the best golfers in Western Pennsylvania to this city. It is expected to offer a number of worthwhile trophies to attract this number.

ROYAL MASTER OWNERS RELAX . . . Never Worry About Tire Trouble

THEY FEAR NO SKIDS. When brakes are applied—the seven continuous ribbreak-upmolded, sharp-edged tread blocks—bite through the film of water, dust and oil to control skids, stop you quicker, straighter, safer.

THEY GET TEMPERED RUBBER now improved with a secret compound to give it greater resistance to heat, even more mileage—thick Tempered Rubber treads can be regummed to give nearly double the non-skid wear.

THEY GET SMOOTHER RIDES. The seven ribs give "railroad track" stability—a smoother, flowing ride without hum, whine or rumble. Fleecers in the grooves (ribs) eliminate stones that often cut the tread.

News And Views From Pennsylvania Capital

(International News Service)
HARRISBURG, May 22.—Little chance is seen of any third class home rule bill being passed by the present legislature and little better chance of similar measures for Philadelphia, Pittsburgh and Scranton. Although the granting of home rule to all cities in the state was approved years ago, the legislature has consistently neglected to pass enabling legislation. Attempts to obtain action at this session appear almost fruitless.

Chief opposition to any third class city home rule bill appears to come from home town politicians who fear new charters will be enacted by their respective communities which will make it difficult for them to retain control. Their chief objection to a home rule bill is that it may permit proportional representation. In testimony before a senate committee, it was suggested that if such a bill be passed a ban against "P. R." be included. Proponents of home rule assert, however, that if the legislature is to follow the spirit as well as the letter of the law, it should enact legislation enabling cities to choose whatever form of government they desire.

Now that the Democratic party has decided to reduce taxes this year, their leaders are sitting back and waiting to see what the administration and the Republican party plan to do. Some say the senate, which is Republican-controlled, will not approve house legislation slashing the personal property tax. From the political standpoint, Democratic leaders will be satisfied whatever action their opponents take on the theory that if taxes are reduced they will get the credit, whereas if they are defeated the Republicans will get the blame. It's just another form of the game known as "heads I win, tails you lose."

The long drawn-out controversy between Governor James and State W. P. A. Administrator Philip Mathews over the W. P. A. sewing project which employ 12,000 unemployed women has finally resulted in a victory for Mathews. The governor made several trips to Washington in an effort to induce the governor to continue the 250 projects in the state on the basis of $250 a woman per month to be paid by the state. Mathews insisted on $10. Now a new one-year agreement has been signed between the state and the W. P. A. It calls for the payment by the state of $10 a month per woman.

The attempts being made in the senate to enact bills consolidating existing merit systems in the state government and extending civil service to the fish and game commissions, the state motor police and the departments of health and welfare carry forward the work begun in the last session. The 1939 legislature passed a measure unifying all civil service systems, but Governor James vetoed the measure on the grounds the systems were already working well.

AROUND CITY HALL

State Health department is again on the trail of the city, this time in pursuit of a copy of a report provided by consulting engineers to the city about the cost of the proposed modernization of the sewage disposal plant, which, by the way, will be approximately $103,000. The state department for several years has recommended but more recently insisted that the plant be modernized.

Men who drive taxicabs, trucks and other motor vehicles favor traffic lights suspended overhead in the middle of thoroughfares, according to an unofficial survey conducted in several cities by Safety Director D. O. Davies. He made the foregoing assertion today. Some time ago it was stated that, if any changes in the traffic lights were made here, lights must be placed on corners. The state has set a certain period for all lights to be placed on corners. When this takes place the taxpayers will not enjoy the cost of the change, according to reports.

The ambulance now at Central Fire department is owned by all the members of the fire department, according to Fire Chief James Thomas. And, when everything the firemen want for the ambulance has been secured, it will be one of the most up-to-date vehicles of its kind in the vicinity and it will be available for rescue work not only here but outside the city. Arrangements are under way now to secure a license for the vehicle. It might also be stated, inasmuch as warm weather is here, that, in case of drowning, a telephone call should be sent quickly to either No. 8, 266, 1000 or 568. These are the telephone numbers of city police, city firemen, state motor police and the sheriff's office.

Curbs are being installed in Chestnut street and excavation, preliminary to paving of North Jefferson street, got under way Wednesday. The latter street will be improved between Wilmington and Leasure avenues, according to City Engineer Glenn R. Throop. It does not appear any too bright for many city-W. P. A. projects this summer. The sidewalk project has not yet been got under way, according to reports in city hall.
